

Central American Rubiaceae. Monographs in Systematic Botany from the Missouri Botanical Garden 73: A nomenclator of Mexican and Central American Rubiaceae book . 6 results . A Nomenclator of Mexican and Central American Rubiaceae (MSB 73) International Code of Botanical Nomenclature (Vienna Code) Chinese Edition. Lectotipificación de Didymaea mexicana Hook. f (Rubiaceae Encuentra A nomenclator of Mexican and Central American Rubiaceae (Monographs in systematic botany from the Missouri Botanical Garden) de David H . A nomenclator of Mexican and Central American Rubiaceae An annotated taxonomic conspectus of the genus Coffea (Rubiaceae). Botanical A nomenclator of Mexican and Central American Rubiaceae. Monogr. Syst.

New Species and Combinations in Mexican and Central American Rondeletia (Rubiaceae) David H. Lorence Novon, Vol. 1, No. 3. (Autumn, 1991), pp. 135-157. Stable URL: <http://links.jstor.org/sici?sici=1055-3177%28199123%291%3A3%3C135%3ANSACIM%3E2.0.CO%3B2-2>

Novon is currently published by Missouri Botanical Garden Press. Your use of the JSTOR archive indicates your acceptance of JSTOR's Terms and Conditions of Use, available at <http://www.jstor.org/about/terms.html>. A nomenclator of Mexican and Central American Rubiaceae. Jan 1999. D H Lorence. Lorence, D. H. (1999): A nomenclator of Mexican and Central American Rubiaceae. " Revision of Bouvardia (Rubiaceae). Article. Jan 1968. Ann mo bot gard. Will H. Blackwell. The study of specimens, including many types, from 24 major North American and European herbaria has led to the recognition and description of 31 species of Bouvardia, including the novelty B. standleyana. The three subgenera proposed by Schlechtendal are retained as the foundation of taxonomic order in the genus, although their retention is admi Central America was the skinny land of mass form Guatemala and Belize to the border between Panama and Colombia. I live in the north part of Mexico, in the border with the US, a lot of years ago parts of Arizona, parts of Texas and Chihuahua were the same state, so I feel that we have almost the same roots, because we come from the same european immigrants that came to North America searching for a better life.