

ELT: GENERAL BIBLIOGRAPHY

ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNING RESOURCES FOR TEACHERS

INTRODUCTION

This general English language teaching (ELT) bibliography is produced by the British Council to help English language teaching professionals select resources for the classroom, self-access centre, library or teachers' resource collection. This general list focuses on actual teaching and learning resources, for example coursebooks, graded readers and examination preparation material. It also includes a section on software. Teachers and resource centre managers can use it to start a new collection or to review and refresh an existing one. The bibliography has been divided into subject areas, for example, 'Young adult/adult coursebooks' and 'Young learners'.

The British Council also produces another bibliography – ELT: Teacher development bibliography, pedagogy, applied linguistics, management and teachers' reference – which focuses on English language teaching pedagogy, methodology and research. While this can also be used to develop a resource collection it will be primarily of interest to individual teachers, trainee teachers, and those involved in teacher training and development.

Please visit the Teaching English website at www.teachingenglish.org.uk for more ELT resources, advice and information.

Each item has bibliographic information to help you with selection and ordering.

Acres to Hectares (ac to ha) conversion calculator for Area conversions with additional tables and formulas. Acres to Hectares formula. $ha = ac \cdot 0.404711$. Show working. Show result in exponential format. Acres. A unit of area (4840 square yards) used in English-speaking countries. Acres to Hectares formula. $ha = ac$. The hectare (/ˈhɛktər, -tɛr/; SI symbol: ha) is an SI accepted metric system unit of area equal to a square with 100-metre sides, or 10,000 m², and is primarily used in the measurement of land. There are 100 hectares in one square kilometre. An acre is about 0.405 hectare and one hectare contains about 2.47 acres. In 1795, when the metric system was introduced, the "are" was defined as 100 square metres and the hectare ("hecto-" + "are") was thus 100 "ares" or 100 km² (10,000 square metres). When
