Sport promotes social integration, encourages an active lifestyle and serves as an educational tool. It has an almost unparalleled reach into all spheres of society. Through its professional and voluntary structures, sport facilitates participation and creates a sense of belonging across ethnic and social divides. In order to raise public awareness of the importance of sport, in 2013 the UN declared 6 April the International Day of Sport for Development and Peace. Agenda 2030 also underscores the contribution that sport can make to implementing the Sustainable Development Goals, for example through the sustainable use of resources and the inclusion of individuals with disabilities.
