Paragliding. Many people believe that David Barish was the first to paraglide back in 1963. There are also photos and a video of a group of skydivers who were flying off small hills in Montana in the early 1970s.

Racquetball. Racquetball is another sport that has not been around for a great length of time. It is a combination of several other sports, including tennis, handball, and the Spanish sport jai alai.

Rowing. Rowing is a sport that can trace its origins back 3,000 years.

The History of English football is a long and detailed one, as it is not only the national sport, it's also England where the game was developed and codified. The modern global game of Football was first codified in 1863 in London. The impetus for this was to unify English public school and university football games. There is evidence for refereed, team football games being played in English schools since at least 1581. It seems clear that the English game originated in the sheeprearing country of the South East, where the short grass of the down land pastures made it possible to bowl a ball of wool or rags at a target. That target was usually the wicket-gate of the sheep pasture, which was defended with a bat in the form of a shepherd's crooked staff.
