Business Strategies for Economies in Transition: Book of Readings on GEE Countries

Edited by

Petr G. Chadraba and Reiner Springer

I:

CambridgeScri^larsJPublisriinj
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword .............................................................................................................. ix

Section I: Marketing Management

Current Trends in the Marketing Strategies of Austrian Firms in Central and Eastern Europe
Arnold Schuh ................................................................................................. 2

The Empirical Research of the Theoretical Framework of Marketing Mix Standardization and Adaptation for International Markets
Beata Seinauskiene and Regina Virvilaite ...................................................... 26

Industrial Clusters, Foreign Direct Investment and Regional Disparities in CEE
Harald Zschiedrich and Agata Gajda ............................................................ 61

Inward-Outward Internationalization: Case of Russia
Daria Podmetina and Juha Vaatanen ........................................................... 92

Economic Growth, Foreign Investments and Economic Freedom: A Case of Transition Economy
Kaja Lutsoja and Margus Lutsoja ................................................................ 127

The Process of Finn Internationalization from a Transformational Country Context
Emma Incze .................................................................................................. 147

Co-opetition Opportunities in Lithuanian Alternative Telecommunication Market
Laura Salciuviene, Regina Virvilaite and Vilte Auruskeviciene ...................... 170
Table of Contents

Section II: Advertising

Impact of Nudity in Advertisements: Comparison of the First Results from Spain, France and the Czech Republic
Christian Dianoux, Zdenek Linhart and Jana Kettnerova. 184

Advertising in Central and Eastern Europe: A Case Study of Nestle
Television Advertising in Russia
Jorma Larimo and Aila Pesonen. 199

Time-Trend Patterns in Advertising Expenditure for Central, Eastern and Other European Countries
Vesna Zabkar and Katarina Kosmelj. 241

and Research Needs for CEE Products and Countries
Katrin Kuzmany. 253

Some Issues about Print Ads in France and Czech Republic
Christian Dianoux, Zdenek Linhart and Jana Kettnerova. 283

What Works Best? The Importance of Ad Characteristics
in Antismoking Advertising to Adolescents
Irena Vida and Domen Bajde. 306

Trade Fairs Exhibitors Communication Excellence
Piotr Kwiatek, Grzegorz Leszczynski and Marek Zielinski. 314

Section III: Finance and Banking

Foreign Banks in Central Europe: Do They Contribute to Economic Development?
Peter R. Haiss, Katharina Steiner and Markus Eller. 332

The Qualitative Benefits of Foreign Banks’ Entry: Estonian Experience
Mart Sorg. 354

Institutional Buying Behavior- The Case of Drug Purchase of Hospitals in Hungary
Zsuzsanna Szalkai and Maria Vagasi. 381
Phenomenon of Double Jeopardy on Financial Services Market in Poland
_Slawomir Smyczek._ ................................................................. 402

Spillover Effects in Slovakia
_Sonia Ferencikova and Martina Fifekova._ ................................. 433

Banking Transition Progress, Foreign Bank Market Entry and Economic Development: The Case of Serbia
_Gerhard Fink, Peter Haiss and Mina von Varendorff._ ............... 454

Consumer Attitudes to the Phenomenon of Money Laundering
_Slawomir Smyczek._ ................................................................. 488

Section IV: Human Relationship Management

Intercultural Competences for Enhanced Business Relations with Lithuanian Companies. A France German Study
_Christophe Morace, Alison Gourves-Hayward and Mario Glowik._ ... 522

Dealing with Different Stakeholders in Russia: Experiences of Finnish Companies
_Asta Salmi._ ............................................................................. 552

Russian and Finnish Business Owners: Comparison of Power-Control Dimensions to Ownership-Survey Results
_Jari Jumpponen, Markka Lkavalko, Tuuli Mirola, and Minna Ikavalko._ 580

Foreigners in Management Positions in Polish Companies—Poles' Anxieties and Expectations
_Arnold Pabian._ ........................................................................ 610

Ownership Structure and Firm Performance in Hungarian Manufacturing Sector
_Marta Szoradi-Szabo._ .............................................................. 619

Aspects of HRM in Foreign Subsidiaries in Russia: Training, Recruitment and Compensation
_Heidi Kivela._ .......................................................................... 641
Table of Contents

Section V: Case

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Maculan Group: International Growth through Acquisitions</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Petr Chadraba, Peter Haiss and Maria Rauscher</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>.........................................................................</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Teaching Note</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Petr Chadraba</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>.................................................................</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
After the political changes in 1989, Central and Eastern European countries (CEE) started processes of political and economic transformation aiming to catch up with the developed Western economies. One of the main economic issues that CEE economies faced during the transition period was how to provide financial resources for the economic development. Due to insufficient domestic resources and low savings, those countries were mainly oriented on external sources of capital. In this chapter, the authors aim to analyze the external debt dynamics in the eight transition economies â€“ Bulgaria, Croatia...